

CAPSULE CORP.
Construction

At Capsule Corp. Construction, we build more than just structures—we build trust, relationships, and lasting value. Our foundation is rooted in a family culture, where teamwork, respect, and genuine care for our clients and employees drive everything we do.

Quality is non-negotiable; from materials to craftsmanship, we hold ourselves to the highest standards to create projects that stand the test of time.

We take accountability seriously, ensuring transparency, clear communication, and a commitment to delivering exactly what we promise. And because we know time is money, we prioritize timeliness, keeping projects on schedule without cutting corners.

With us, you're not just another client—you're a valued partner, and we're here to build something great together.

Our Services

General Construction

General construction services cover everything needed to bring a building project to life, from planning and design to construction and finishing touches. At Capsule Corp. Construction, we take the stress out of building by handling every detail—materials, labor, permits, and quality control—so you don't have to. Think of us as your one-stop shop, guiding you through the entire process with expert support, transparency, and a commitment to delivering a hassle-free, high-quality build.

Steel Construction

At Capsule Corp. Construction, we never cut corners—we use high-quality steel with precise specifications to ensure structural integrity, cost-effectiveness, and long-term durability, creating buildings that stand strong for generations.

Concrete Construction

We specialize in concrete construction for foundations, floors, and structural components, delivering solid, reliable work for projects of any size.

Timber & Bamboo Construction

Our team handles timber and bamboo construction, delivering sustainable and visually striking structures that blend natural beauty with modern craftsmanship.

Survey & Land Design

Our land design and surveying services ensure precise planning and execution for any construction site

Surveying

We conduct detailed land surveys to accurately measure and map the terrain, identifying key features such as boundaries, elevations, and soil conditions—essential information that ensures precise planning, safe construction, and compliance with regulations.

Mapping

Our mapping services help visualize the terrain and layout of the project site.

Grading, Cut & Fill

We take care of all earthwork and grading, which means shaping and leveling the land to create a stable, even foundation for construction—preventing drainage issues, foundation problems, and other costly setbacks down the road.

Other Services

Our extensive range of additional construction-related services ensures that all aspects of a project are fully covered, from design to final handover.

Design & Drawing Services

Construction Drawing. We create detailed construction drawings for all phases of building projects.

Shop Drawings. We create shop drawings—detailed, scaled diagrams that act as blueprints for fabricating and installing building components like steel structures, cabinetry, and mechanical systems—ensuring accuracy, efficiency, and seamless construction.

As-built Drawings. We create precise as-built drawings that document the final construction, capturing any changes made during the build to ensure an accurate record for future maintenance or renovations.

Project Management

We provide full project management services, ensuring that your construction projects are completed on time, within budget, and to the highest standards.

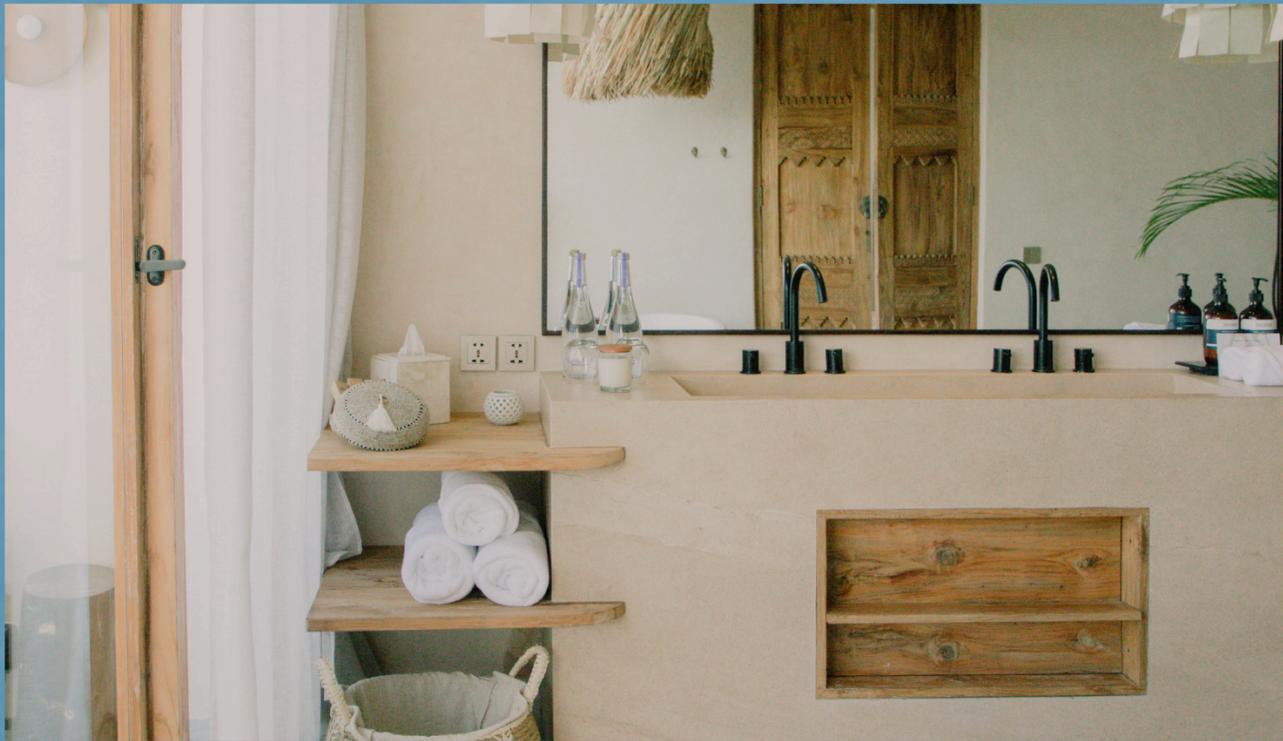

MEP (Mechanical, Electrical & Plumbing) Design

Our MEP design services include the planning and coordination of all mechanical, electrical, and plumbing systems for efficient, code-compliant installations.

Architectural Design

The philosophy of architecture is rooted in the idea that buildings are more than just structures—they shape how we live, work, and feel. Great architecture balances functionality, beauty, and harmony with its surroundings, meeting both our practical and emotional needs for comfort, security, and inspiration.

At Capsule Corp. Construction, we understand that every space should serve a purpose while enhancing the human experience. That's why we collaborate with expert architects to design and build structures that are not only durable and efficient but also thoughtfully crafted to reflect our clients' visions, lifestyles, and the unique character of Bali.
